| You should say: | When it is |
| | What you usually do at that time |
| and explain why you like it. | |

Outline

To begin the statement

What is the time you like best of a day?

- I don't think there is any particular fixed time that I like best in one day, because it is the thing happening at that time that makes people happy instead of time itself. If everything goes well that day, I would enjoy the whole day. However, if I have to choose one particular time, I prefer the time in bed before falling asleep.

- For me, the time at the beginning of every day is quite beautiful, and I like this time very much.

To develop your statement

1. What do you usually do at that time?

- I prefer to read something on bed, some Iranian traditional history books.

- I have a special habit, that is before I fall asleep, I would think of all the things that happened during the day.

- I usually go to the playground for physical exercises. After that, it is my habit to read English.

2. Why do you choose to do these things at this time?

- Reading those books requires concentration to it, and the end . of the day offers a good opportunity for free thought, because I have finished all the work, and there is no pressure any more. That is the best time I enjoy myself by reading my favorite books.

- Most people say that the memories of human beings are at a peak during the morning. So I usually use this time to recite very beautiful English prose written by famous writers or memorize the new words.

- What is more, I also make plans for the next day. I am a lazy person to some extent. So I always make timetables for myself. I think of the things I should finish the next day, and arrange them in a good way. With these timetables, I hope the next day would be a meaningful day, and I am in a good mood every minute.

3. What is your feeling towards that part of a day?

- That is the best time I enjoy myself by reading my favorite books.

- It is quite peaceful at the time, because most of the people haven't woken up from their dreams. The air in the morning is fresh. After a quiet night, there is no dust in the air. The whole city beside me is so peaceful that what I can hear is only the songs of birds. I enjoy the beautiful scenery of the morning when I am running.

To end the statement

Why do you like this time of a day?

- I like the time when I am in bed before sleeping, because for me, that is the end of a passed day as well as the beginning of a new day. In this way, I enjoy two days at the same time.

- Well, I like the time of morning because of its quietness. I usually believe a very good beginning is a symbol of success. So I do not want to waste the beautiful morning lying in my bed. I would like to utilize the time to make a good beginning of the corning day.

Sample Response

For me, the time at the beginning of every day is quite beautiful, and I like this time very much.
Every morning I get up very early, when the sun has not risen from the horizon. I usually go to the playground for physical exercises. It is quite peaceful at the time, because most people haven't woken up from their dreams. The air in the morning is fresh. After a quiet night, there is no dust in the air. The whole city beside me is so peaceful that what I can hear is only the songs of birds. I enjoy the beautiful scenery of the morning when I am running. After d1at, it is my habit to read English. Most of the people say that the memories of human beings are at peak during the morning. So I usually use this time to recite very beautiful English prose written by famous writers or memorize the new words. It is a hard task to memorize English words for me, because I have a poor memory. Only in the peaceful morning can I concentrate myself into the difficult job and in tills way I get a very good result from it. When I finish my daily reading, it is time for me to have classes, and after physical exercises and reading, I am in high spirits to face the life of the day.

Well, I like the time of morning because of its quietness. I usually believe a very good beginning is a symbol of success. So I do not want to waste the beautiful morning lying in my bed. I would like to utilize the time to make a good beginning of the coming day.
